Plowing Matches

Keen interest is being displayed in the plowing matches to be held at various points this year under the direction of the department of agriculture. The first one will be held June 14 at Vermilion, another at Lacombe on June 20, one at Lacombe on June 21, and one at Redwater on July 7. Six other points, including Olds, are planning to have matches, though dates have not been set. These matches are held under the auspices of the local agricultural societies and under the supervision of the department of Agriculture.

It is expected that there will be 30 field crop competitions in the province this year. Entries are already beginning to come into the office of the crop commissioner at Edmonton.

Market For Rye

An effort is being made by the department of agriculture to establish a market for Alberta rye across the sea. There is a splendid opening this year in France, Russia and other European countries, and W. J. Stephen, crop commissioner of the department, has already written to the trade commissioners of these countries in an endeavor to secure a market for the rye that Alberta will have to market this fall. It is estimated that there may be about 2,000,000 bushels for export this year.

The Weed Campaign

A campaign against the weeds of the province is being launched, on a large scale than ever by the department of agriculture this year. The chief aim of the new system adopted is to complete a survey of all the districts in the province and to compile material on the best methods of eradication in each district. The weed branch now has its own weed inspectors on the job.

By an arrangement with the minister of Agriculture, Hon. E. G. Reid, the weed branch is advising all municipalities as to the method of the department in handling the weed situation, and is asking the cooperation of the municipalities in the campaign. The municipalities are being asked to put their weed inspectors in the field, under power they have in the municipal act, and are being asked to conduct a special survey of their municipal districts.

These municipal inspectors are being invited to a convention to be held at Olds on June 16 and 17, at which the inspectors will be asked to give the weed branch of their success of the various weeds found in their districts, and to recommend any methods of eradication from their experience. This convention will be attended by Hon. Geo. Howley, minister of agriculture, H. A. Craig, deputy minister, W. J. Stephen, crop commissioner and others.

Data collected by these weed inspectors when it is received by the department, will be used in the compilation of a new weed bulletin, which will deal particularly with method of eradication.

Enquiry is being made into the possibility of establishment of a potato flour plant at Edmonton.

Thirty ex-members of the Irish consular, advance party of a greater number to arrive later, have taken up residence in the Lloydminster district where they will become farmers.

Dr. D. A. McMillan, professor of economics at the Alberta University, has been named by the provincial government as special commissioner to investigate the banking situation and the operation of the bank act. This is in accordance with an announcement made some time ago by Premier Greenfield that such an enquiry would be conducted.

Members of the government will make a decision shortly in the application of the Calgary Gas company for permission to cross road allowances with a pipe line by means of which the company plans to transport gas from the Redcliff field near Medicine Hat to augment the supply in Lethbridge and Calgary and other points. The application is being supported by the city of Calgary and is being opposed by the city of Medicine Hat and town of Redcliff all of whom have sent delegations to interview the government. Medicine Hat and Redcliff claim such a pipe line will deplete the gas field upon which these two places claim to depend for their industrial life. Calgary's present gas supply is almost exhausted which is their reason for supporting the application of the gas company.

The final draft of the new course of public school studies, to be put into effect at the beginning of the fall term, was considered by the professional branch of the general committee on revision of the curriculum at a session held at Edmonton the past week.

Young people from all parts of the province are meeting for their fourth annual course at the University of Alberta. There is a big enrollment and an interesting program has been provided. The course lasts for a week and includes lectures on various farm activities, but especially it is a week in which the young people of the farms are given instruction in the things that make for good citizenship. There is a regular schedule for sports also. So popular has this annual week become that some of the young people come back year after year. Among the lecturers on the program are Dean Haines, Professor G. H. Cutler, Prof. A. A. Dowell, A. E. Otwell, Prof. Strickland, E. A. Corbett, Chris Mark, Mrs. Clarke Fraser, Dr. Percy Talbot, Dr. Archer, Lamont, Miss Smith, Dr. E. Cameron, Prof. Angus, Prof. MacGregor Smith, George Harcourt, and others.

Women's Institute Convention

The annual convention of the Women's Institute is in progress at Calgary this week, and will last until Saturday, the convention of girls' clubs being held the last two days of the week.

Extension Work

A very large program of extension work under the auspices of the Women's Institute branch has been prepared for this summer. Eighteen lecturers will be in the field, giving lectures and demonstrations in any matters of interest to women, particularly in health and domestic science. The itinerary has been under way for some time now. The following are the dates and speakers for Wetaskiwin district: Miss Emerson, Health and General Subjects—Wetaskiwin, August 2; Mrs. Arthur Murphy, on "Home and Country"—Millet, July 5th, Wetaskiwin, July 10th.

Miss Gower on Health Subjects—Millet, August 4th. Miss McMillan, Health and General Subjects—Wetaskiwin, August 25, Ponoka, August 25.

The Grasshopper Campaign

The grasshopper organization in the province is working like a well-oiled machine of machinery now, and in some localities in the south we have received reports where the organization and cooperation of the farmers has been complete, the grasshopper pest has been checked. Says Hon. George Howley, minister of agriculture, in a statement issued in regard to the campaign against the hopper pest.

"During my tour of the south," said Mr. Howley, "I found two or three isolated places with a shortage of poison bait, but generally speaking every locality was well organized for the campaign with a good supply of poison. The department now has ample material for poison bait on hand and there is no danger of a shortage. Every point can be well supplied for the proper handling of the campaign."

"The farmers are entering keenly into the spirit of the campaign, and their enthusiasm is considerably stimulated by the fact that the grasshoppers are being kept out in millions." "Strenuous efforts are being put forth by the agricultural department to meet the situation and carry on the organization, which is complete in every way, and we have the satisfaction of knowing that our plans are being heartily endorsed. We are receiving letters every day of offers of cooperation and of congratulations to the government in having passed the pest act and in having taken hold of the organization so thoroughly this year. The opinion is expressed in these letters that if this had not been done, the crop in whole districts would have been wiped out. We have the satisfaction of knowing that as a consequence of the effectiveness of the campaign, the percentage of crop lost will be comparatively small. It must be emphasized, however, that there must be no relaxation of the vigorous campaign inaugurated by the farmers."

E. J. Strickland, entomologist in charge of the campaign, has made a report to Mr. Howley on the results of certain experiments in various kinds of poison bait. Mr. Strickland's report is summarized as follows: "The recent hot dry weather has resulted in a very rapid hatching of grasshoppers throughout the infested area. The demand for poisoned bait is so great that though there are twenty two hundred mailing stations now operating in the province, each of which can turn out about two tons of the prepared bait, it has been found necessary at some of them to put on a night shift to cope with the demand."

"Gratifying reports of the rapidity with which the bait has held outbreak in check have been received from many districts, though some disappointment has been expressed in some districts where the season has been exceptionally hot, dry and windy, that despite the fact that enormous numbers of the pest have been killed by the bait, they are moving so rapidly into the grain that severe damage continues."

"This is due to several causes, but mainly the fact that under such conditions it is impossible to keep the bait moist for many minutes after it has been scattered. The small grasshoppers feed very little on bait after it is thoroughly dry, even if later in the season they will take the dry bait, especially if it contains salt. In such cases repeated applications of bait may be necessary until the majority of the pest has been exterminated."

"Despite the hot days the nights have been cold and the grasshoppers are not feeding to any extent until comparatively late in the morning with the result that much of the bait that has been scattered soon after sunrise has dried out before feeding begins. When the soil is moist and the nights are warmer, the early application gives the best results, under existing conditions, a greater killing will be obtained if the bait is scattered between 6.30 and nine in the morning when the hoppers have begun to feed, but have not scattered extensively. Bait applied later in the day dries out so rapidly that its effectiveness is quickly lost and any that is applied in the evening when the grasshoppers are feeding very little, is almost entirely wasted."

"Though it has been recommended that the salt formula be given a trial in all districts in order that the expense of the campaign may be reduced whenever possible, there are many districts in which the farmers are afraid that it may not be effective and they are still using nothing but the more expensive molasses formula. This is unfortunate since in several places the salt bait has proved so satisfactory in every way as the molasses and its use is greatly reducing the cost of control in those districts. In the province of Manitoba where an extensive campaign has been conducted for the past three years, no molasses has been used since 1919 and the grasshoppers have been practically exterminated over large areas by the use of the lean, sawdust and salt formula. It is therefore urged that this material be given a more general trial. In all cases the molasses can be reduced to one gallon and the sale increased to five pounds per hundred without appreciably affecting the value of the bait."

"The recent rains will greatly increase the effectiveness of the bait since it will retain its moisture for a considerably longer period and the hoppers will get less rapidly through the fields."

"We have found in former years that when the hoppers are bait grown they are more strongly attracted to salt and that they will feed more extensively on sawdust. For this reason a further economy can be practiced: that of reducing the bran and increasing the sawdust in the bait. Recent experiments, conducted in a district where the majority of the hoppers were already in the second stage, showed that as large numbers were killed by a bait composed of 1.3 bran and 2.3 sawdust treated with salt and arsenic as by the more expensive 5-5-5 formula containing molasses. We recommend that this also be tried in every locality and when it is found to give satisfactory results that it be used to reduce still further the heavy expense in connection with controlling the grasshoppers."

FOUNDERS IN CANADA

ON Place d'Armes in the City of Montreal stands a monument to Sieur de Maisonneuve who, landing near this spot in the year 1642, founded the settlement which is now the City of Montreal.

Facing Place d'Armes stands the Bank of Montreal, which opened its doors for business a short distance from the same spot over one hundred years ago.

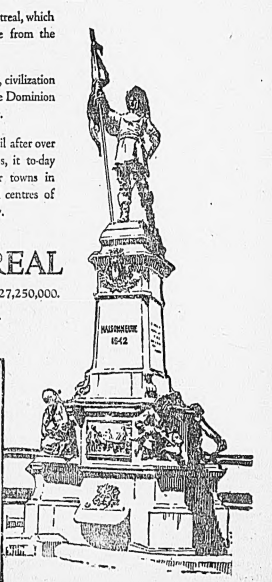

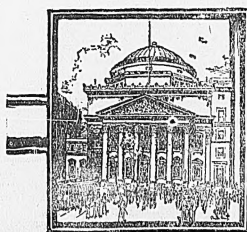

From the Settlement founded by Maisonneuve, civilization has spread to the east and west until to-day the Dominion of Canada extends from Halifax to Vancouver.

Likewise the Bank of Montreal has grown, until after over a century of steady and conservative progress, it to-day has branches in all of the cities and larger towns in Canada, with offices in the principal financial centres of the world, and correspondents in every country.

Translations

The editor of The Wetaskiwin Free Press got badly mixed up in a jumble of translations, illustrations, "nothing but the truth" and bear, in his last issue. "Will someone kindly give us the translation of 'The Translation of 'Unifair'?"

Losing Premier Dairy Position.

Canada during the past twelve months has imported nearly as much butter directly and indirectly from New Zealand more particularly so also exported last year to Great Britain, according to Mr. A. W. Grant, prominent Montreal butter and cheese exporter, who returned home after a five weeks' visit in England. Mr. Grant went on to say that New Zealand is now exporting more cheese to England and Scotland than Canada is although Canadian cheese is preferred as regards quality. Regarding the proposed Canadian government compulsory inspection of cheese intended for export, Mr. Grant stated that the Liverpool trade has passed a resolution against such an action and he is of the opinion that other primary markets will follow suit. The consensus of opinion in England is one of surprise that Canada should so attempt to increase her expenditure in this way, especially so in view of the fact that Great Britain is cutting down her expenditures wholesale by dismissals in the various branches of the army, navy and civil service, and the thought is that Canada might follow suit and thus lighten the burden of taxation.

The Embargo Doesn't Bar

The biggest shipment of live cattle that ever went down the St. Lawrence was loaded at Montreal a few days ago. The vessel carrying this record breaking load was directed to the Montreal Liverpool run in a special effort to meet the abnormal demand for cattle supply to British ports. Quite evidently the much discussed embargo has not shut Canadian cattle out of the British market. If it was intended for a gate it is a very badly constructed one, for Canadian steers are going through it in thousands just now. If the embargo has any particular effect upon the trade at all it must be that of causing the animals to be sent over as finished animals instead of feeders. In that case the Canadian farmer is drawing less prices for a good deal of coarse grain and roughage which he might not know what to do with. The embargo may not be a help to the Canadian cattle grower, but it has not excluded him from the old country markets. And on paper at least it seems to give him encouragement to fatten his cattle before he ships them and collect for the trouble and expense.—Bulletin.

"Covered by Insurance"

Newspaper accounts of fire invariably conclude with the statement "the loss is fully covered by insurance." We take it for granted that this means there is complete compensation for all waste and destruction caused by the fire. There is no greater fallacy. The losses resulting from a fire extend to so many directions that they can never be fully covered by insurance. Insurance, at the most, can be collected only for the goods and property actually destroyed. Where the fire has been in a shop or industrial plant, no matter how fully the buildings and the contents may have been insured, there is no adequate compensation to that firm for the time lost from production while seeking a new location or rebuilding. There is no insurance on the unfilled business orders which may go to a rival concern and mean a permanent loss of trade. There is no insurance for the loss of employment suffered by the employees, many of whom may be compelled, temporarily at least, to accept employment in other branches of industry at lower wages. There is no insurance for the loss of production suffered by the public as a result of the plant being put out of action. Anything which reduces production and makes commodities scarcer necessarily increases their prices. And yet these are the inevitable results attendant, either directly or indirectly, on almost every shop and factory fire. And what do statistics show in regard to these fires? That in the vast majority of cases they occur immediately following the departure of the employees for their homes. It means that in the rush of quitting time there are been carelessness. Some one forgot to shut a fire door. Some one forgot to turn off electric switches, some one neglected to remove a heap of inflammable rubbish. Some hurry-ing worker ignored the rules, lighted his pipe or cigarette before he had got out of the building and carelessly threw the smouldering match on the floor. It is the history of almost every big fire—indifference and carelessness. And the public pays the cost.

GRAIN RUST

The greatest enemies of grain growing are the rusts. Every year losses amounting to millions of bushels of bushels. Several rusts attack grain, but by far the most damage is done by the stem rust. Forms of this rust attack wheat, barley, rye, oats and many grasses. It is more severe on wheat than other cereals, especially in western Canada. Farmers speak of red and black rust, but these are only signs of the stem rust. Another stage of this rust is found in all varieties of the common barley, a shrub sometimes planted for ornament but which is not native to Canada, east of the Rocky Mountains.

Rust is due to a fungus which is spread chiefly by spores, or spores as they are called. These settle on the leaves or stem, and send threads through the minute openings through which the plants get air. The threads of the fungus grow in the tissues for a few days, then produce the well known masses of red spores which are carried about by the wind and thus spread the rust to other plants. Black winter spores are found which in the spring may attack common berries, but not grains. The masses of spores also break the skin to reach the surface, and then the last wind of summer (and to dry out the plants. Moisture is necessary for the red spores to grow, so that rust is worse in wet seasons.

How does the rust live over the winter? It is certain that the black spores can live over the winter and start the stem rust on the common barley in the spring from which it easily spreads to grasses and grains. The red spores can live over on wild grasses under certain conditions, and spores blown from wheat fields to the south are doubtless another source of rust outbreaks. Which of these is the most important source of the origin of rust in the early summer is not known, though with our present knowledge the latter seems the most important source.

What can be done to prevent rust? As early maturing grain escapes rust, so early seeding is advisable and all operations that hasten maturity. Early harvesting of good quality grain should be used in preference to later maturing ones. All the varieties of red wheat commonly grown in Canada are very susceptible. Kots, a cross between the two, is the most resistant to stem rust. A marked resistance to stem rust, some of the thrums or narrow-leaved wheats and some of the hard wheats are very resistant, but whether these wheats are suitable in other respects for Canadian climate in Canada has not yet been proved. At present there is nothing to recommend to take the place of the varieties for general use in Western Canada.

The most promising way of combating rust is along the line of plant breeding for rust resistance—the development of a plant possessing rust resistance and other qualities that would make it suitable for Canadian conditions. Some work is being done along this line but the very serious losses from rust call for further and united efforts.—Experimental Farm Notes.

5000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

The 1922 edition of the popular little encyclopedia of the Dominion, will be welcomed by the public, which regards it as an indispensable booklet. Its compiler, Frank York, is widely known as an authority on everything Canadian, and it is a marvel of condensation, with a fact in a sentence. The new issue is enlarged and improved, and its contents will prove a revelation of the growth of the country, not only in a single year, but in a five or ten year period. Over 50 chapters—ranging alphabetically from agriculture to Yukon—provide a bird's eye view of the Dominion from every angle. No better advertisement of the country could be had, and many use it in that way to enlighten the ignorant as to the wealth, prosperity and advantage of this Britain of the west. Copies may be had from leading newspapers or by sending 30 cents to the Canadian Facts publishing Co., 555 Huron St., Toronto.

If you burned a dollar bill openly upon the street you would be termed eccentric. If you burned a bushel of them you would be called crazy. Yet Canada carelessly burns almost $10,000,000 every year. What particular description would fit us? Ever stop to think of that?

HOME TOWN "DISTEMPER"

Two farmers met on a country road and pulled up their teams. "Hi!" said Josh. "I've got a mule with distemper. What did you give that one you had when he had it?" "Turpentine, Gidday!"

A week later they met again. "Say, Si, I gave my mule turpentine and it killed him!"

"Killed him with the turpentine?"

Note—There is nothing more fatal to both the individual, the business enterprise, nor the entire home-town than to advise turps for distemper. "Laziness" is what is needed.

In Shabbytown

In Shabbytown there do not care if things look seedy everywhere. They have no pep they've lost their grip, they simply sit around and yip, in envy's tones, of Glossyville, the shining village on the hill. Oh, Shabbytown is punk and gray, and it shows symptoms of decay, and strangers passing through remark, "It surely dates back to the ark." "Clean up and paint up" makes men frown along the streets of Shabbytown. A can of paint makes no appeal to this mean village, down at heel; the people think there is no sense in going to so much expense; so things are always going down, and getting worse in Shabbytown. It always gives my soul a thrill when I arrive in Glossyville. The town looks like a blooming bride. The people take a hearty pride in making their jobs clean and bright, and in things look take delight. They're lavish with the helpful paint, selecting colors of shade and color, decorating every abode; thus warding off decay, attack, and making all the buildings look like buildings reared of a book. And strangers, when they see the town say, "Here we'll come and settle down and make us millions in this place, and live and die as sick as grease!" This happy burg right ahead, while Shabbytown is prone and dead.—Walt Mason.

HOW TO FIGHT AN AUTOMOBILE FIRE

The average motorist has never given much thought to the question of extinguishing a fire in his car although carburetor fires occur quite frequently. Here are a few suggestions on the subject:

1. The most important thing to remember in case of fire is to keep cool. A few seconds lost in panic at the start may result disastrously.
2. At least one small fire extinguisher should be on every car. It should be placed where it may be readily accessible in an emergency. The small extinguisher is responsible in handling a gasoline fire, it is also useful in fighting any other kind of a blaze about the car.
3. In the absence of an extinguisher, sand or dirt can be used, but it should be remembered that if sand is thrown into the carburetor mechanism, ineliminable harm is likely to result.
4. Do not use water in attempting to extinguish a carburetor fire or other gasoline fire. This merely tends to spread the fire.
5. If the fire has reached the drip pan, extinguish that first, and then work up to the carburetor.

A quart of gasoline will propel an automobile five miles. A similar quantity used for household cleaning often causes four fire trucks and an ambulance to run the same distance.

As any one could see! Once I bought her a ribbon, Jake said it oughter be blue,

But a brown one's far more lastin'! And this one was cheaper, too; And once I took her out a'riding But that wasted half a day,

And made up my mind that walking Was pleasanter, anyway. Well, I'd been six months a-courtin' When I said to Jake, see I: "It's time that we was married, Here's 'Thankygin' drawin' nigh—"

A first rate day for a wedding! And, besides, to say the least, I can make that 'Thankygin' turkey Do part of the wedding feast."

So that night I screwed up courage, To the very sticking point, (You wouldn't never mistrust I shook in every joint.)

"We was comin' along from meetin' When sez I: 'I'd like ye to say, That you hadn't no objections, Banter To be married 'Thankygin' Day.'"

The Monitor district, south of the C.P.R. Lacombe branch, is the scene of considerable drilling activity this season, and one of an excitement somewhat of the same class as that at Fabyan. The West Regent well, located on section 19-34-4th, about four miles south of Monitor, struck wet gas on Thursday last, at 2,600 ft.

The force of the gas was sufficient to raise the tool nearly out of the hole.

DUNLOP

CORD TIRES FABRIC

Making "Mile-ionaires"

These are great days for the motor car user—in a tire sense. Your dollar never before bought as much. Your speedometer never before registered as much. Your repair kit never as idle. All because Dunlop Cord Tires came and ushered in a new era. Five years ago you paid half as much again for the same size tire; ten years ago you paid twice as much. Prices have been tumbling. Quality has been mounting. One time we thought 3,500 was mileage to boast of; to-day we may run into half a dozen "25,000 Miles" in a forenoon. "Dunlop did it," says one enthusiast. The "Two Hands" are making us Mile-ionaires, says another, and so on.

The Sign "Mileage Wanted" is now changed to "Mileage Supplied"—use Dunlop Cords.

Dunlop Tires Deserve Well Because They Serve Well

TYRANNIES OF IRELAND

(By Katharine Ryan in London Times)

I have just left Ireland. I already she begins to tug at my absent straps, so that I know the memory cannot be very long.

Ireland is still the most friendly country in the world. As I went in and out and up and down, I talked to everyone, and they to me. No one cared a fig who heard. The strange new courage was as remarkable as the fear had been. It was the reaction, I suppose.

Even a woman whose sons were in the I.R.A., whose clean, warm, little house had been raided repeatedly by the military and Black and Tans, said "There'll be more trouble," she said "because the boys are strong for the republic, but sure, we want peace."

That was just it. A comely, clever, industrious woman, she had built up a comfortable little business of her own. Such Irishwomen as she are very like their French sisters. Doubtless she had kept the reins of business in her own hands. Her sons went hither and thither carrying her goods.

Perhaps if they had built up the business they would have had qualms about its destruction. As it was, republicanism was their crowded hour of glorious life. The war fever which is in the air had haunted them. Unlike those others who went to the European war, they had not had enough of it.

I should say, roughly, from my experience, that ninety per cent of Ireland is for peace—hungry and thirsting for peace. The remaining ten—roughly again—are young, without responsibilities, and they have got the revolvers.

Ireland is full of little businesses and little farms where prosperity has been built up slowly and painfully. It is these, it is the little white cottages all over Ireland, that are menaced by the cruelty of the revolution. One comes to an age when these cottages and little shops and the people they house are one's children.

The revolution in Ireland is in the hands of the young, and the young can be very cruel. Yet how patient they are, these softly smiling boys and gentle, soft-spoken girls. Even among these I have not seen the families, though, of course, they are there.

I have not seen Mr. Rory O'Connor's men. He is fortunate in his name. It had been less romantic. It would have had less appeal for the young. But the "regular" army is all over Dublin. They are very young, often very good looking; they have often a shy, boyish grace left to them though they bristle with revolvers, and have a way, with a "Crosser" tender that recalls the Black and Tans, and a way with the girls that the British army could not exceed.

But the revolution, like all violent revolutions, has begun to eat her children. These Girondists, Paines and Macdonoughs, to say nothing of Roger Casement—what would they have thought of the tyrannies of the revolution they sowed and planted? Much what the gentlemen and ladies of the Girondo would have thought of Marat and Robespierre.

The young are tyrannous from sheer exuberance of energy. It is so easy to cut it by a different name. And all the little harmless people who only ask to live in peace and mind their businesses as their fathers did before them, are groaning. There is a wave of disillusionment.

Was the regime of the Black and Tans so much worse than the new tyranny? They are asking. And those who understood, if they did not condone always, the things that happened during the violent resistance of the young army against "Black and Tans" are now left disillusioned with the rest.

There are so many tyrannies springing up, one after the other, and now by all utterly irreparable. Tyranny, I take it, may be defined, simply, as preventing by force a man or woman from doing the things they have a right to do; or forcing them to do things they do not want to do.

There are so many of these tyrannies. There is the Belfast boycott committee which sends its deputies into the little and big shops to order haul stocks and take away and destroy goods purchased in Belfast. There is another, a separate body altogether which, in the sacred name of freedom, forces a man to receive in his house guests he does not want, because, be-

STORM'S DEATH TOLL

IS STILL AT SIXTY

New York, June 13—From revised reports received today from Sunday's far-flung storm, it is indicated that from 55 to 60 persons had perished in the tempest that swept the Metropolitan area, taking its greatest toll among the boisterous parties at City Island.

Edmonton, June 14—In spite of the cool strike that affects all the mines in certain districts of the province, there is little demand for coal and those for which are operating have only orders for short half time operations, according to John T. Stirling, of the provincial coal branch. There is little demand for coal, he states.

The owner of the back lot that is filled with gaping tin cans, broken crockery, wood debris and ash heaps is sure to be somewhere discussing the orderly adjustment of international affairs.

The attorney general of Ontario, E. J. Haney, was vindicated in the report of the commission of the charges made by Major Lewis of negligence in investigating the death of Capt. Huston.

ing a Protestant unionist, he is supposed to be sympathetic with Belfast's anti-Catholic pogrom—as though Belfast had not a religion happily peculiar to itself.

Even the provisional government, in its zeal for the Irish language, cannot wholly be acquitted of tyranny. To learn the Irish language because you have the student mind and bring enthusiasm to the learning is one thing; to force the learning of a language only less difficult than Chinese upon an army of minor officials who must conform, or go, is another thing.

MOVIE IDOL TO DO A MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING MARATHON

CHARLIE CHAPLIN wants to make a picture in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. In preparation of such a picture he plans to spend his next vacation in tramping over those mountains; no little patch-work climbing for Charlie, but a hike right across the Rockies. He is convinced that in the Canadian Pacific Rockies he will find the ideal location for a big picture, something that will make the movie fans all up on the edges of their seats. While the Comedy King has not a personal knowledge of Canada's wonderland, he is by no means ignorant of its possibilities and beauty. Among the books which he studies during his leisure hours are three huge volumes filled with Canadian data and pictures and with their contents he is thoroughly conversant.

The Chaplin Canadian pictures will be along entirely new lines; the familiar popular and somewhat overworked red-coated Mounted Police will not be featured, but something as interesting is promised. The ninth-proving Charlie has his serious hours, too, and a keen business sense that is put to work in seeing that the public gets what the public wants. He has a story in view in which the greater part of the action occurs in picturesque, rugged parts of Quebec and Manitoba.

Visitors to the Rockies during the next few seasons may expect to meet Charlie on out-of-the-way mountain trails. They may fail to recognize in the knickerbockered, efficiently shod young climber, the baggy-trousered, splay-footed screen favorite, but it will be Charlie Chaplin getting a close-up of the wonders of the Northland, the wonderland that he means to put on the silver screen for the delight of the adoring public.

Devotees of Chaplin's antics are already anticipating joy in seeing upon the screen, their idol's acrobatic efforts in mountain climbing and hair-breadth adventures in the regions around Banff and Lake Louise.

"Two and One is Shoe Polish," Little Pat's Answer

Little Pat started at school yesterday entering the first grade. After he has come home his mother listened to many strange tales of the day's doings. But Pat's reports were not confined to his domain alone, for in the early part of the evening he was walking along the street near his home, when a grocer's friend stopped him.

"Right away things started. No questions were needed. Pat was wound up like an eight day clock."

"Say, I went to school today and got wound up, what a time we had. The teacher gave us a piece of paper that was about a yard long and about a foot wide and she made us put numbers all over the place."

"What a yard long and a foot wide?" asked Pat's friend.

"Yes," was the reply, and then the young man measured off a distance of about 10 inches long and about three inches wide. That was Pat's idea of a yard and a foot.

"The teacher asked me if I could count and I told her yes and I can, it, too."

"What is one and one?" Pat asked.

"Two, and two and two is four and three and three is six," kept on Pat without a stop. He continued this until he reached seven and seven. He could not get any farther.

"The little fellow's friend then tried him on a lower number."

"What is two and one, Pat?"

"Three, that is two and one."

"Shoe polish," I said.

"No, two and one makes three."

"Yes, but I tell you, mister, as I know, two and one is shoe polish."

Nothing could make Pat believe that two and one was anything else.

GWYNNE

Mrs. M. E. Murray spent a few days in Edmonton last week.

Mr. Arthur Cole has returned home from the coast, much improved in health.

The regular Sunshine meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Rupertus on June 1, with fifteen members and several visitors present. A social afternoon was spent and lunch served.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. G. Larson, a mile and a half east of Gwynne, on July 6.

This being the annual meeting, an urgent request is made that all members be present to arrange for the next officers.

The June meeting of the Gwynne U.F.W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. John Maynard on Saturday evening, June 2nd.

There were a fair number of visitors present. Visitors were Mrs. Monn, Miss Bye, and Mrs. H. Maynard.

Miss Cummings acted as secretary in the absence of the secretary treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Messrs. Cole and Randle-Woolcock.

COMMUNICATION

(We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading—Ed.)

The Editor of The Times.

Dear Sir:

Regarding homing pigeon, this bird was the property of Mr. W. Lees, a member of our club and was trained to Viking, and our first young bird race of that year was from this place. This bird was taking part in the race.

Our members wish to thank Mr. Stanley and yourself for taking more than passing interest in our feathered wonders. Their record for carrying messages in the war was 97 per cent, giving far greater service than any other means of communication.

I may say our club competes in races as far as Winnipeg—about 300 miles, and our race next week is from Biggar, Sask. I hope you will kindly ask the farmers and others not to shoot our birds if they alight on their buildings for a rest, as they are very valuable to us.

I have made in my loft that cost me over $100.00 a pair imported from Verriers, Belgium. Again thanking you for interest to them.

W. Ruff, 12043 101st St., Edmonton.

A radio concert will be given in June's Hall, Millet on Monday and June 15th, under the auspices of the Women's Institute. A children's concert will be held at 4 o'clock and a concert for adults at 6:30 p.m.

MILLET

The Board of Trade annual picnic will take place as usual on the first day of July. Three great games of baseball. Particulars will be announced later. There will be great prizes for the kiddies, and in fact the big 12th annual picnic will be better than ever. Don't forget the dance in Mayon's Hall, and the executive of the board of trade wish to call attention to the moonlight dance and want it understood thoroughly that it is a moonlight dance and not a moonshine dance, and that if its moonshine it will be best left at home.

The cemetery clean up day is on Wednesday, June 21st. Everybody turn up. It is the biggest day of the year. Write it in your hat.

Millet has decided to have a fair this year. The date is August 31st. Millet has never yet come in the hole in regard to the fair, and it is up to the farmers to see that they don't go in the hole this time.

The usual big dance will take place on the 1st of July.

Millet is making new roads. The council are getting all kinds of criticism from the old mossbacks for going ahead, some are even kicking that the dust is blowing in their doors. Did you ever hear the beat of that? The sooner that the parties realize that Millet is out of the backwoods stage, the better it will be for all concerned.

Millet has lately received a few letters on the back, and the latest is from the fire department of the province.

In a letter to the Rev. they congratulate the village on their adequate protection against fire. Fire Supt. Bruce says that there are two very clean villages in Alberta and they are Millet and Nanton. Now will you be good!

There is another wedding next week but it is a secret. The lucky lady told another lady. It's a secret, that's why everybody knows.

Sunday services will be held at Larch Tree at 11:30 and at Hillsdale at 5 p.m., and Millet at 7:30.

The choir will meet for practice and a social on Thursday evening, June 15th.

The Trail Rangers will meet on Friday afternoon at the Methodist church at 4 p.m.

Wallace F.M.O. was in Millet on Friday last and gave a grand demonstration in boys' work in athletics and in the evening a very illuminative and instructive address to both parents and boys was given and much appreciated.

Rev. Hughson is returned for another year to Millet. This is Mr. Hughson's fourth year, and it speaks well of Millet that they realize that when they have a good man the best thing is to keep him.

Remember the first day of July and the Picnic. Tell mother that all the live people will be here, and also that the good cats will be presided over.

Unveiling A War Memorial

THE ADAMSON-ALL-CANADIAN QUARTETTE in two big concerts the second day of Chautauqua.

ON Friday, April 25, His Excellency Lord Byng, Governor-General of Canada, unveiled the fine bronze memorial which had been erected in the concourse of the Windsor Street C. P. R. Station at Montreal as a memorial to eleven hundred C. P. R. employees who gave their lives in the Great War. The above photograph shows His Excellency addressing the large crowd that had assembled to witness the unveiling, and at his right stands Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the C. P. R. The guard of honor was composed of C. P. R. employees who were also war veterans.

An exact copy of this statue was at the same time unveiled at Winnipeg in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba and at Vancouver by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. On the same day also 25 bronze tablets were unveiled at different points along the C. P. R. system as well as at the company's European, American and Asiatic offices. The base of the statue bore the following inscription:

To commemorate those in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company who at the call of King and Country left all that was dear to them, endured hardship, faced danger and finally passed out of sight of men by the path of duty and self-sacrifice, giving up their own lives that others might live in freedom. Let those who come after see to it that their names be not forgotten.

Enlistments of C. P. R. employees totaled 11,240 men, of which 1,315 were killed or died of wounds, and 2,105 were wounded. A total of 7,573 were re-employed by the company on their return to Canada, following out the C. P. R. policy of re-instating every man who left, in as good a job as that which he had when he went away, and a list of 13,112 other returned soldiers have also been taken on the company's service. War decorations and medals won by C. P. R. employees included Empire, 6; Distinguished Service Order, 2; Order of the British Empire, 6; Distinguished Service Order, 17; Distinguished Service Cross, 3; Military Cross, 64; Distinguished Conduct Medal, 47; Military Medal, 150.

ADJUSTMENT TO LOWER PLANE IN BUSINESS WORLD

Winnipeg, June 12.—That business is slowly but surely adjusting itself to the lower plane is indicated in most articles being received. Although orders are smaller than would be wished, they are more numerous and there is plenty of evidence that trade is moving from the peak of depression, since the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust association.

Montreal advises say that wholesalers and manufacturers find orders gradually improving, excepting in very few instances. Retailers are also reporting better business owing, perhaps, to improved weather conditions and farmers completing seedling. Collections are still somewhat slow.

Toronto wholesalers and manufacturers find the improvement in orders maintained. Dry goods, ladies' and men's wear, millinery, etc., are active with an improvement also in boots and shoes. Hardware is slow compared with the season. Retailers report satisfactory business but collections slow.

Winnipeg distributors find business waiting on crop assurances of the future. The gradual improvement noticeable during the past few months in distributing circles is being maintained. A feature of the local reports is that orders, although more numerous are very small compared with previous year, indicating that retailers have yet to get back into their former buying stride.

Saskatchewan wholesalers report business improving slightly. Wheat seedling is practically completed. The weather conditions are exceptional and recent rains in this province and Alberta indicate that there will be no lack of moisture for the next two or three weeks.

The owner of the back lot that is filled with gaping tin cans, broken crockery, wood debris and ash heaps is sure to be somewhere discussing the orderly adjustment of international affairs.

Melon-Growing in the Okanagan

There is a certain market-garden at Summer-
land, a little settlement on the shores of the Okanagan Lake in British Columbia,
who has made his ten acres famous
for canteloupes,
egg-plants and peppers. He has five acres of canteloupes from which last season
he shipped 1,200
crates averaging $3.00 gross per crate.

They are grown
on the usual
"hill" system 5 x 6 ft. apart and well-rotted mixed
farmyard manure is applied in the spring. Great care has to be taken when irrigating the melons as they won't stand being chilled.

The grower's "long quit" is saving his own seed and he has bred distinct strains of peppers, cucumbers and melons. The "Hoodoo" canteloupe is improving every year.

The seeds are sown under glass in mid-April and are transplanted two before being set out in the field between the 5th and 10th of June. It is then ready to fruit at the end of August.

Egg-plants and peppers are profitable, too, in a small way, and about 1/2 acre of the first and 1/2 acre of the latter is grown and shipped regularly to certain stores in

Mr. A. McLachlan in his winter lettuce house, Summerland, B.C.

From 1/2 acre of early slicing-en-cumber the grower makes at least 3 pickings in the season, taking from 110-125 boxes at each picking.
There is average a clear profit of 50 cents per box, the prices varying from 60 cents up to $2.00 according to season.

Another highly profitable line followed by the same grower is early lettuce under glass. Last Christmas
I saw one of the greenhouses (18 x 40) full of lettuce for the Christmas trade around Summerland.
Some amount $150.00 of it and was well ordered a sure and steady market.—H. G. W.

Mrs. Olson Tells How Tanlac Rid Her of Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble
Which at Times Made Her Almost Helpless

In telling her experiences with Tanlac Mrs. Arthur Olson, 322 Peider St., East Vancouver, B.C., said:

"Ever since I came from England three years ago my stomach has been out of order and I was always feeling sick. I had no appetite and ate scarcely enough to keep a bird alive.
I suffered from constipation and was almost frantic with headaches. I had pains in the small of my back and rheumatism in my limbs. For three weeks I could hardly move my arms.
I rarely got to sleep before two or three in the morning, was simply lifeless and just wanted to lie down all the time.

"Tanlac did what all other medicines failed to do for me. It gave me a fine appetite and rid me of all my pains, and the other day I walked several miles with my husband and did not even get tired. I think Tanlac is just splendid."

"Tanlac is sold by all good druggists."

ing will be held at the home of Messrs

AERIAL SERVICE
FOR THE YUKON
IS NEW PROPOSAL

Ottawa, June 12.—The postmaster general has under consideration a proposal to establish an aerial service to the Yukon, but he did not hold out much hope of it being put into effect immediately. He made this statement in reply in the house Saturday night to a plea by Dr. Black, who represented that district, for a better winter mail service. Hon. Chas.
Murphy also promised to take Dr.
Black's request into consideration.

This statement was made by Mr.
Murphy during the discussion of a vote of $25,335,000 for the post office department. At the outset of the discussion, Hon. H. H. Stevens urged the postmaster general to investigate the handling of the mails with a view to giving the national railways a preference.

Mr. Murphy said that an inspector of the department was going to make a tour of the country during the coming summer with the object of seeing what improvements could be made.
The Canadian National would be given a preference wherever possible, with due regard for economy.

George has the right idea

"Well, George, it looks as if we were going to get a real crop this year—wouldn't be surprised by the looks of things now if it was as good as 1915"

"Hope you're right, Lloyd, but if we do I guess I'll have to buy two Ford Trucks instead of the one I figured on. That haul would play hob with the teams—they're too slow anyway—I'll get a better price by getting there first."

"George has the right idea. There isn't a farmer in this section who wouldn't be money ahead if he did all his hauling with a Ford Truck"

Drop in and see me first time you are in town. I have some figures on hauling costs that will

Hunter's Remarkable Trophy

Head of Bighorn or Rocky Mountain Sheep secured last October near Lake Louise, Alberta. This is one of the finest and largest heads ever secured.

The Western provinces of Canada are famous as resorts of big game.
Many kinds are to be found, but amongst the most sought are bighorn or Rocky Mountain sheep. The hunters that get a bighorn secure a handsome trophy in the horns. It is said that the biggest and best bighorn heads are to be found in the Rockies. Last October a party of hunters under the leadership of James Simpson, well known Banff guide and hunting outfitter started out from Lake Louise. They hunted through Clearwater, Sheep Creek, and the Saskatchewan River. Many bighorn and wild goats were seen, and amongst the trophies secured was a head with a base 16 inches wide, a left horn 47½ inches, and a right horn 49 inches. The animal weighed 350 lbs. There were twelve bighorn in the group from which this remarkable specimen was taken, and two of the others looked just as large.

Bighorn are very much afraid of men, and they make their haunts in the most secluded places. Some good hunting districts are the southern parts of British Columbia, East Kootenay Mountains, Okanagan District, Valley of the Bridge and Chilcoteau Rivers, the Cassiar country, East Kootenay is one of the most favored districts, and hunters set out from Golden, Invermere, Michel, Fernie and Cranbrook, all of which are on the C. P. R.

A SEVERE COLDTHE LIKE SHE NEVER HAD

Our advice to you is, never neglect what at first appears to be but a slight cold.

You think you are strong enough to shake it off, but colds are not so easily fought off in the northern climate, and if they are not attended to at once they may, sooner or later, develop into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Edward Kincaid, 60 Bryden St., St. John, N.B., writes: "I wish to express my hearty thanks to your valuable remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and what good it did me."

Last fall I contracted a serious cold, the like I never had. My head and nosetrils were so clogged up I could get no vent, and could scarcely get my breath.
I tried remedy after remedy until at last I thought I would try "Dr. Wood's." After the first dose I felt relief, and by the time the bottle was finished I was better. I wish to extend my thanks to your valuable remedy. After this I will always keep a bottle in the house."

"Let every soul be subject to the higher powers." Paul's injunction stands, even though our liquor act may not be perfect, we know that its object is morality, justice and obedience to all law and order, in which lies the industry and strength of our country. And while we as law adding people rally to the support of the respected appointed commissioner, we must not forget that constant vigilance is the price of every reform.
Therefore watch for a petition calling for a referendum exempting from the effect of the law, her of 3-12 cent of alcohol by weight, which means 7-12 per cent proof, the same inforcising beer that you voted out in 1916. This harmless business was sprung on Quebec and the traffic in hard liquors carried on under the pulse of light wines and beers, was simply so unscrupulous and enormous that it led to government control which creates everyone a partner in the business and stimulates sales by creating revenue. So the last states of that province is worse than the first.

"Liberty" with a sub-title "Obey the Law" a little sheet published in Calgary (naming the name of any editor or proprietor) is championing the cause of the vets, and advocating this wonderful petition. How can we help strangers in our midst to understand what they are asked to sign, avert the danger, and ensure the safety of our prohibition act which despite criticism, is doing a great work, as the record, prove.

SO MANY PEOPLE
ARE NERVOUS*"Fruit-a-lives" the Greatest of all Nerve Remedies*This Fruit Medicine Restores Health

The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the reaction following the war. Sleeplessness, Headaches, Mental Depression, Rheumatism, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bad Heart Action, are the results of a disturbed condition of the Nervous System.

The nerves and the blood are so intimately, so vitally, connected that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other. If the blood is laden with impurities, it is impossible to have strong, steady nerves.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify and vivify the blood.
This, "FRUIT-A-LIVES" will do.

"FRUIT-A-LIVES" stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. "Fruit-a-lives" improves appetite and digestion and assures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves.
Men and women who take "Fruita-lives" for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvellous in its action.

FIELDING MAY MODIFY RECENT BUDGET TAXES

Ottawa, June 12.—Interest in parliamentary election campaigns around the modifications to the budget which Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, will probably announce when the debate is resumed on Tuesday.
No indication of the nature of these modifications has been given, although it is considered likely that they will include a change in the proposed stamp tax on checks which has resulted in numerous protests, from all over Canada. "It is hoped to have a vote on the budget by Tuesday night, but there is some fear that it will be delayed if the minister's new proposals are of a character to evoke discussion. Delay will hardly be welcome because the desire is to finish the business, conclude the session, and get home.

After the budget is disposed of,
there remains the reports of house committees to be considered by the commons. Two of these, that on railway costs and the Crown's Net Pass agreement and on the wheat board are practically certain to take some time before they are finally disposed of. Progressive members are vitally interested in the question of railway rates. They are no less interested in the matter of the wheat board and if the reports submitted to the house do not meet their views they will not hesitate to say so.

Supplementary estimates will be probably tabled in the near future, and these with a number of items in the main estimates which have not yet been passed will occupy some time. However, when other business is concluded, the house has a way of disposing of estimates in short order.
Predictions now are that the session will be concluded within two weeks.

PLANES FIND NEW LAKES IN JASPER PARK

Several hitherto unknown lakes and river valleys have been discovered in Jasper Park, through the use of government aeroplanes. This work was undertaken by the Tigh River Air station, and three experimental flights, were carried out over the region for the purpose of exploration and reconnaissance. The Canadian air board report states: "A flight was made on each of three successive days with gratifying success and the possibilities of the use of air craft for exploration in mountain regions and in the administration and general maintenance of the park system were proved without a doubt."

At the conclusion of the operation, Colonel Maynard Rogers, park superintendent who was taken as an observer on each of the three flights expressed himself as highly pleased with the results obtained and with the rapidity with which it was possible to reach any part of the park as compared with making a similar trip by trail. In the seven hours flying over the park he claimed he travelled more country than he could possibly have done in six weeks' or two months' hard travelling. Col. Rogers also expressed the opinion that sufficient flying had been done to demonstrate the absolute necessity of having machines stationed at Jasper Park to continue this exploration reconnaissance work, as well as for the purpose of forest fire protection.

Some time soon will be a good time to clean out the cupboard under the stairs where all the old newspapers, cardboard boxes, and other rubbish has accumulated. Don't procrastinate!
Good intentions are said to pave the road to destruction.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART*WOULD HAVE TO QUIT WORK

Mr. Frank Letes, 71 Terrace Hill St., Brimley, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled with palpitation of the heart for a number of years, and by spells it would bother me a lot. The doctor told me it would stop on me sometime if I did not get it right. When I would get a spell my heart would pound and I would break out in a perspiration, and get so weak I would have to sit right down and quit my work; also in the middle of the night I would wake up and my heart

Participating or Non-Participating-which ?

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada is the only Canadian Life Insurance Company in which life insurance can be secured at actual cost.

The Mutual Life of Canada is not a speculative institution.
There is not a dollar of private capital invested in it.

The Mutual Life is a company of policyholders operated by policy holders for the exclusive benefit of policy holders.

The result is that the premiums on our participating policies rapidly drop to a point far below the fixed non-participating rate.
After the completion of the premium paying period on limited paying policies, the participating contract continues to earn a surplus, whereas nothing is payable on the non-participating policy.

Here are some actual results

Policy Number	Year of Issue	Plan	Age	Original	Corres-	Net Pay	Year in Total	Dis-premium	ponding	premium	dis-	counting premium	premium	counting	premium
5,893	1881	Life	35	$21.84	$0.45	$7.15	8th	$121.28
12,997	1895	20 Pay Life	30	$27.64	$3.35	Paid up	8th	$27.28
23,373	1891	Endowment in 30	31	$16.50	$2.15	Matured	6th	$20.96
64,782	1911	Life	45	$3.20	$0.85	$6.85	4th	$6.84
46	47.75	38.90	33.82	4th	100.05
81,601	1911	20 Pay Life	35	$50.20	$2.55	$5.74	4th	$10.76
63,896	1911	Endowment in 20	35	$29.29	$3.55	$6.75	2nd	$2.91
89,405	1912	Joint Life	36.39	$9.25	$0.25	$5.73	2nd	$5.27
90,102	1912	Joint 20 Pay Life	36.34	$1.60	$3.10	$4.03	3rd	$4.27
86,256	1911	Joint Endowment 20	43.38

These figures show conclusively that the cost of protection is very much less if Mutual profit-participating policies be taken, than if the non-participating insurance had been adopted. The Mutual gives the largest amount of sound life insurance for the least possible outlay.

GERMANY'S SIX POINTS

Berlin, June 14.—Under the caption "Germany's Six Points" the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung this morning in an editorial, evidently inspired by Hugo Stinnes, designates half a dozen specific conditions on which the entente must yield before Germany is enabled to fulfill her reparations obligations. The six points, the fulfillment of which the newspaper declares would essentially enable Germany to regain her feet and become solvent are as follows:

1.—Evacuation of Danzig, Dusseldorf, Ruhrort, and abolition of the 25 per cent export levy.

2.—Evacuation of the left bank of the Rhine.

3.—Evacuation of the Saar basin.

4.—Free trade for Germany with Danzig and through the corridor specified in the Versailles treaty.

5.—Abandonment of Upper Silesia in accordance with the Versailles treaty.

6.—Elimination of the most favored nation clause.

BRIGHTVIEW

The Brightview Baptist church parsonage was formally opened on June 7th. The proceedings were opened at noon by the serving of a very fine dinner, provided by the ladies of the church. Mr. E. E. Sparks, M.P.P., was called upon to address the meeting and in his practical manner dwell on the efforts of the legislature toward reform at the past session. The speaker noted the attitude of people toward the emigration question, and the violations of the prohibition laws, sure stating that people looked upon the infraction of this law in the light of a joke, and urged a more serious attitude in making the detection of bootleggers possible and their punishment on conviction.

The parsonage was then visited by the assembly, the contractor, Mr. S. J. Fay, in a neat speech, thanking the boys to the representative of the church, Mr. A. C. Spence, who in turn handed them to the pastor, who accepted them on behalf of the Home Mission Board of Alberta.

Mrs. H. Goodhand, as the oldest member of the church, then opened the door and the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olson led the way into the building, where Mrs. Goodhand made a short speech, followed by Mrs. J. L. Carruthers who formally presented a complete set of window shades and a large kitchen range to the parsonage.

A dedicatory prayer was then offered and the building was inspected and much admired, after which all moved homeward.

PRIZE WINNING ESSAY ON CIGARETTE EVILS

The following is one of the essays winning a first prize in the W.C.T.U. Essay Contest, and was written by Clifford Mann, of Grade VI, on the subject: "How the Cigarette Injures Health."

It is a great pity that young boys are continually among men, who ought to know better, yet who think nothing of putting away on a cigarette as if it were quite the natural thing, and even a necessary thing. These boys get the idea that it is alright and indeed a clever thing to do. It isn't much wonder either because so many men who are real fine fellows in lots of ways have become victims of this habit and do not consider the influence it has on the young boys around them.

Tobacco contains a habit forming drug, and of course when a young boy has smoked a few cigarettes the habit begins to fasten itself upon him and it doesn't seem to take long either.

Cigarette papers are also treated with a drug which is said to be even more harmful than the tobacco. It seems unbelievable that manufacturers, for the sake of the money to be made out of it, are willing to ruin the best chances of our young boys.

No young boy realizes the awful results which this habit brings and few seem willing to believe it, when told by old smokers that it would be wise to leave it alone. There seems to be a fascination about getting into it in some place and stealing cigarettes in the presence of parents. If a young boy could be made to believe that it contracted the lungs, instead of the nerves, weakens the heart, gives congestion of the stomach, affects the nose, mouth, throat, and worst of all, weakens the will, surely he would consider well before taking his first cigarette.

It is an expensive habit, too. No one can smoke without spending considerable money which might be used to better purposes. Many a wife and family have to go without even the bare necessities, but the husband cannot give up his tobacco on that account.

Many big manufacturers will not employ men who smoke, and many schools will not accept as pupils, boys who use tobacco, especially cigarette smokers.

If young ladies would put the same rule on young men who smoke and have nothing to do with it themselves, it might be a great help in stopping the habit.

When youth is passed, and men begin to get more serious, very often they waken up to the fact that they have been fools to have been taken in by this more than worthless habit, and some make great attempts to stop it, but few are able to do so, as it now has such a hold on them that it is almost completely mastered them.

What a pitiable thing it is for man to be a slave to a thing like that, when it was intended that he should be master of himself. It is to be hoped that in time there will be a more severe law against selling young boys cigarettes and it would be a good thing if tobacco in all forms could be done away with.
